

HID Signo Décor Reader

Designed for Impact

The Signo reader for design-forward environments

In modern buildings, every visible detail is the result of a design decision — from the materials on the walls to the light switches to the fixtures on the doors. Too often, even thoughtfully designed access control readers stick out.

HID Signo readers have set the standard for physical access control: proven security, broad credential support and remote management at enterprise scale. HID Signo Décor extends that standard into a new form, designed to live in spaces where readers fit naturally into the architecture.

Architects, specifiers and integrators demand a Signo reader built for flush-mount, design-led installations. Signo Décor is it.

Stylish in form. Serious in function.

BUILT TO BELONG

- Mounts flush on standard electrical back boxes, to complement the reader form factor.

HIGH-TRAFFIC HERO

- Robust glass face, built for environments where design matters and readers experience demanding daily use.

NEW SHAPE, SAME SIGNO

- Carries the same secure architecture, mobile credential support and remote management as the rest of the Signo family.

Elevated Design. Proven Signo Performance.

Bring HID's flush-mount Signo reader to your next project. Made to blend in, it's also highly secure, mobile-ready and managed remotely (like the rest of the Signo family).
